

SOUTHWARK
◆ CATHEDRAL ◆

A Service to mark the Third Anniversary of the London Bridge Attack

Wednesday 3 June 2020

10.00am

Welcome and Bidding

Welcome to Southwark Cathedral, in the heart of London, alongside the Borough Market and London Bridge. Wherever you are we are glad that you can be with us as together we mark the 3rd anniversary of the terrorist attack on London Bridge and the Borough Market.

On the evening of the 3rd June eight people lost their lives, eight people working here, enjoying this place, relaxing in its inclusive atmosphere. They were eight people from around the world as were the 48 people whose injuries we know about and the many people who were mentally and emotionally scarred that evening.

Last year, at the end of November, there was a second attack in this area as two people, Jack Merritt and Saskia Jones, were killed and others injured at Fishmongers' Hall and for many, in this community, old wounds were reopened and old memories were revived.

Now we are in various stages of lockdown, or re-emerging from that experience. So we cannot be together physically today as we would have wanted to be. But we are here, gathered online to share some moments of reflection.

The olive tree by which, later in the service we will be laying flowers in remembrance, was planted and blessed on the First Anniversary of the attack. Around its base are written some words from the Bible, 'The leaves of the tree are for the healing of the nations'. Those words are as true today as they were back then.

Later in the service we will be going into the retrochoir of the Cathedral for prayers alongside the Cross of Nails. Earlier this year, before the lockdown, we were admitted to the community formed by Coventry Cathedral after the destruction of the Second World War who would work and pray for reconciliation. Every Friday we pray the Litany of Reconciliation with churches and cathedrals, with individuals and groups around the world. The cross stands in the chapel dedicated to those who have died as a result of violence.

So, thank you for joining us. And first of all we pray.

For those who died three years ago

Christine Archibald
Sebastien Belanger
Kirsty Boden
Ignacio Echeverría
James McMullan
Alexandre Pigeard
Xavier Thomas
Sara Zelenak

For their families and friends and all who will be mourning them today.

For those who were injured that night and those who continue on the path of physical, mental and emotional recovery

For the families of Jack Merritt and Saskia Jones for whom this day will be poignant and for all caught up in the attack at Fishmongers' Hall.

For this community, for the Borough Market and the people of this Cathedral and Bankside. For those of other faith communities, for all who still live by the values of inclusion and welcome.

For all who are sick, afraid, alone, bereaved and exhausted in this time of pandemic and for the healing of the nations.

We bring all our needs and prayers to God as we pray as Jesus taught us

Our Father, who art in heaven,
hallowed be thy name;
thy kingdom come;
thy will be done;
on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread.
And forgive us our trespasses,
as we forgive those who trespass against us.
And lead us not into temptation;
but deliver us from evil.
For thine is the kingdom,
the power and the glory,
for ever and ever.
Amen.

Unchanging God,
as time moves on, you remain constant,
as year rolls into year, you are as you are.
Hold us in your love
as we remember again
the events that took loved ones from us,
the events that changed our lives,
the events that bring us here.
Bring us through this present time to the brink of your eternity
where with all we love
we will be enfolded in you
for ever and ever.

All

Amen.

Reading

Romans 8. 31–39

Read by Peter John OBE, Leader, Southwark Council

A reading from the Letter of St Paul to the Romans.

What then are we to say about these things? If God is for us, who is against us? He who did not withhold his own Son, but gave him up for all of us, will he not with him also give us everything else? Who will bring any charge against God's elect? It is God who justifies. Who is to condemn? It is Christ Jesus, who died, yes, who was raised, who is at the right hand of God, who indeed intercedes for us. Who will separate us from the love of Christ? Will hardship, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? As it is written,

'For your sake we are being killed all day long;
we are accounted as sheep to be slaughtered.'

No, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him who loved us. For I am convinced that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor rulers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, nor height, nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord.

For the word of the Lord.

All

Thanks be to God.

Reflections

Music

Bring us, O Lord God · John Donne

Set to music by William Harris, sung by The Southwark Cathedral singers

Homily

Preb Jonathan Osborne, Chaplain to the Metropolitan Police

Music

'Stronger'

Sung by the Bede Choir from Bermondsey

Litany of Reconciliation for the Community of the Cross of Nails

Led by Frances Goodchild, member of the Cathedral's Unity Committee

All have sinned and fallen short of the glory of God.

The hatred which divides nation from nation, race from race,
class from class,

All

Father forgive

The covetous desires of people and nations to possess what is not their own,

All

Father forgive

The greed which exploits the work of human hands and lays waste the earth,

All

Father forgive

All Our envy of the welfare and happiness of others,
Father forgive

All Our indifference to the plight of the imprisoned, the homeless, the refugee,
Father forgive

All The lust which dishonours the bodies of men, women and children,
Father forgive

All The pride which leads us to trust in ourselves and not in God,
Father forgive

Be kind to one another, tender hearted, forgiving one another, as God in Christ forgave you.

Music and the laying of wreaths

Prière · Marc Delmas

Played by a member of the Cathedral congregation

Blessing

The Bishop of Southwark, the Right Reverend Christopher Chessun

All songs covered by the Christian Copyright Licensing have been reproduced under CCL licence no. 223439 and One License licence no. A-633666.

Common Worship: Services and Prayers for the Church of England, material from which is included in this service, is copyright © The Archbishops' Council 2000.

The Division of Christian Education of the National Council of Churches in the USA: Scripture quotations from The New Revised Standard Version of the Bible © 1989 The Division of Christian Education of the National Council of the Churches in the USA. Used by permission. All rights reserved.

Welcome to Southwark Cathedral. Set on the south bank of the River Thames in one of the most vibrant and diverse communities in London, this building has been a constant witness in a place of change.

The first church was built on this site around the year 606. First a convent, then a monastery, it became in 1106 the Augustinian Priory of St Mary Overie. With Westminster Abbey and St Bartholomew the Great in Smithfield it is one of the three remaining great monastic churches of London. At the Reformation the Priory became a parish church and it remains so for the people of Bankside. In 1905, as south London was rapidly expanding, the church was consecrated as the cathedral for the new Diocese of Southwark.

As well as a place of constant witness to our faith in Jesus Christ, this church has a momentous and proud history and has had links with many famous and influential characters including St Thomas Becket, Geoffrey Chaucer, William Shakespeare and Charles Dickens.

In the 20th century this cathedral was at the heart of the new movement in theology termed 'South Bank Religion'. This movement asked challenging questions of people about faith in the modern age which continue to be explored at Southwark Cathedral which describes itself as 'inclusive: faithful: radical'.

Whatever has brought you here today, you are most welcome. Become part of the life here if you can; it will change your life as you encounter with us our living God.