

SOUTHWARK
◆ CATHEDRAL ◆

Would your son like to be a chorister at Southwark Cathedral?

Auditions for Southwark Cathedral Choir for boys aged 7–10
Saturday 3 October 2020

“Being a cathedral chorister is the single greatest leg-up a child can be given in life”.

Alexander Armstrong, former chorister, television and radio presenter, comedian, actor and singer.

Our choristers benefit from

- Free singing and music lessons
- Paid chorister scholarships
- International choir tours
- CD recordings
- Regular BBC radio broadcasts
- Singing with like-minded young people who share a passion for music

“My time as a chorister was so much fun! It really built my confidence and helped me aspire to the highest professional standards. I really enjoyed recording for the blockbuster Netflix series, The Crown, in February 2020 when we got to sing alongside stars of stage and screen”.

Henry, Senior Chorister

Our forthcoming audition day for boy choristers on Saturday 3 October is open to any boy currently aged 7 to 10 who enjoys singing. No prior choral experience is required: we look for boys who simply enjoy singing and have a good musical ear; who are responsive and quick to learn.

To book an audition time, please contact Ian Keatley, Director of Music, by emailing ian.keatley@southwark.anglican.org
